

Figure 1. Distribution of the species in Australia. The dots represent the locations of the species in the country.